CHAPTER TITLE GENERAL	RESOURCES
SUBJECT FIELD COMMAND POST	CROSS REFERENCE P-5000 HIGH RISK INCIDENTS S-3210 MOBILE COMMAND CENTER

I. Purpose:

The purpose of this policy is to establish the guidelines for establishing and operating a field command post.

II. Policy:

It may be necessary for the Sheriff's Office to establish a field command post during localized critical incidents. The field command post shall serve as a centralized location for an organized response to critical events. A field command post should be established during prolonged multi-unit incidents.

III. Procedure:

A. Purpose of a Field Command Post: The purpose of a field command post is to establish a central location for:

1. An organized, coordinated response of personnel.
2. Decision making.
3. Obtaining outside resources.
4. Dissemination of information to command personnel and/or the media.

B. Establishment of a Field Command Post: A field command post may be established in the event of a localized critical incident. Critical incidents may include, but are not limited to:

1. High risk incidents: barricaded, armed subjects or hostage situations (see P-5000 High Risk Incidents).
2. Major crime scenes.
3. Drowning.
4. Lost or missing children/persons.
5. Employee involved use of force resulting in death or serious injury.

6. Major accident scenes or multiple fatality accidents.
7. Active shooter incidents.
8. Aircraft incidents.
9. Localized hazardous material spills.
10. Bomb threat or detonation of an explosive device.

C. Command and Control:

1. The field command post may be established by a supervisor or command officer. The supervisor or command officer establishing the field command post shall be in direct command until relieved by a ranking deputy.

2. Upon establishing a field command post, the supervisor or command officer shall notify Communications of the command post location.

3. The supervisor or command officer should request additional units respond to the field command post for assignment.

4. The command post supervisor or command officer shall keep or direct an on-going log of the incident and assignments be kept. The log shall contain:

a) The time the incident started.
b) The location of the incident.
c) The names and serial numbers of responding units.
d) Actions taken by personnel, suspects, victims, etc.
e) Personnel locations and assignments.
f) Requests and notifications of other personnel/agencies.
g) Activation and deactivation of the field command post.

5. The supervisor or command officer establishing the field command post shall notify the on-duty watch commander or the ADC.

6. The Incident Dispatch Team shall be requested to respond to the location at the discretion of the High Risk Incident Commander.

D. Location:

1. The field command post should be at or near the location of the incident; however, it may be necessary to locate the command post some distance from the scene for safety reasons (e.g. bomb threat).

2. The field command post should be outside the inner perimeter and inside the outer perimeter.

3. Generally, the field command post will be established at a patrol unit near the scene and an incident command board will be used. For prolonged incidents, a business or residence may be utilized or the Mobile Command Center may be requested (see S-3210 Mobile Command Center).

4. If possible, the field command post should be out of the view of the general public and the media. An additional location away from the command post should be designated for members of the media.

E. Deactivation of Field Command Post: Once the incident has concluded, the field command post must be deactivated.

1. All units and personnel involved in the incident shall be notified of the deactivation.

2. The field command post commander shall be responsible for accounting for every unit and individual involved.

3. The field command post commander shall also be responsible for determining what reports shall be completed regarding the incident and assigning personnel to complete appropriate reports.
