CHAPTER TITLE GENERAL	RESOURCES
SUBJECT RE-ENTRY TRAINING (ROAD PATROL)	CROSS REFERENCE

I. Purpose:

The purpose of this policy is to establish the guidelines for Re-Entry Training for deputies who have not performed the essential duties of a Road Patrol Deputy for an extended period of time.

II. Policy:

All deputies shall be required to perform essential duties / functions of their positions as described in their job descriptions. Deputies who have not performed these duties/ functions for extended periods of time shall be required to successfully pass Re-Entry Training prior to working the Road Patrol.

III. Definitions:

A. Extended Absence: A Deputy who has not performed the essential job functions of a Road Patrol Deputy for any of the time frames listed below. This would include individuals who have not participated in a 75 day rotation or who have not been assigned to a Road Patrol Shift for one year or more.

IV. Procedure:

A. Criteria:

1. The following criteria shall be followed for re-entering the Road Patrol following an extended absence:

Years Absent	Number of Training Shifts with a FTO
Zero to One year	Zero Shift Days
One to Two years	Three Shift Days
Two to Four Years	Seven Shift Days
Four or More Years	Thirteen Shift Days

2. In order to provide the participating Deputy with the appropriate feedback; the assigned Field Training Officer (FTO) shall gather the activity log from the shift and complete a daily summary of activities complete with the participating deputy's strengths and weaknesses for the day. The Shift Supervisor shall complete a training memorandum at the end of the third, seventh and thirteenth shift with a recommendation to the FTO Coordinator regarding the progress of the participating Deputy.

3. The deputy taking part in the re-entry program must keep in mind that poor performance could lead to an extension of his/her re-entry training. The maximum extension time would be seven (7) remedial training shifts. If the participating deputy fails to respond to training at the culmination of the remedial training, the deputy may face termination with cause. Conversely, positive performance may lead to a reduction in the number of re-entry training days required. Such a reduction may only be granted by a Command Officer.

B. Participating Deputy Responsibilities:

1. Meet with your assigned Sergeant and obtain copies of the Sergeant's Meeting Minutes as well as any General Orders dating back to your last assignment in the Road Patrol Division.

2. Review the relevant SOP list(s) provided by the program coordinator and sign off on each SOP to indicate the content is fully understood.

3. Review the FTO Lesson Plans and sign off on each lesson plan to indicate the content is fully understood. The lesson plans are found in the forms folder: FORMS>FTO/JTO>FTO Forms>FTO Program>Lesson Plans

4. Review any other supplemental documents provided by the Program Coordinator.

C. Training Officer Responsibilities:

1. Training Officers (TOs) shall insure the participating deputy is keeping a daily activity log.

2. TOs shall complete a summary of the participating deputy's activities prior to the end of each evaluated shift. Summaries shall be submitted to the Shift Supervisor prior to the beginning of the next scheduled shift.

3. If at any time a TO is aware a participating deputy is having significant difficulties, the TO shall notify the Shift Supervisor and the Program Coordinator to identify areas in need of remedial training.

4. TOs may be relieved of assignment at any time by the Program Coordinator.

D. Shift Supervisor Responsibilities:

1. Shift Supervisors shall monitor participating deputies for any potential problem areas that may result in remedial training.

2. Shift Supervisors shall complete training memos on the third, seventh, and thirteenth shifts of the program with a recommendation to the program Supervisor to continue training or justify the reduction/cessation of recommended shifts due to satisfactory performance.

E. Training Program Supervisor Responsibilities:

1. The re-entry program Supervisor and his or her Supervisor (the Watch Commander, Assistant Facility Administrator, or Assistant Administrative Commander) shall be responsible for establishing the minimum requirements for training officers within the division and selecting appropriate training officers based on those requirements.

2. The re-entry program Supervisor shall monitor the performance of the division's training officers relating to their training duties.

3. The re-entry program Supervisor is responsible for the initial orientation to the re-entry program for each deputy and for periodic face to face review and/or counseling sessions with the deputy.

4. The re-entry program Supervisor is responsible for monitoring the progress of each participating deputy and the maintenance of all training records.

5. The re-entry program Supervisor is responsible for providing periodic updates to command staff regarding the progress of participating deputies.

6. The re-entry program Supervisor shall assist in developing and implementing remedial training when necessary.

7. The re-entry program Supervisor shall make recommendations regarding the status of participating deputies to Command Staff.

8. The re-entry program Supervisor shall compile all documentation with a summary at the culmination of training with a recommendation of satisfactory or unsatisfactory completion of the re-entry program requirements and such documentation shall be signed off by the Chain of Command. Participants will be notified of their completion status by the Administrative Division.
