CHAPTER TITLE ROAD PATROL		RESOURCES
SUBJECT HIGH RISK INCIDENT COMMAND		CROSS REFERENCE S-3210 MOBILE COMMAND CENTER P-5020 ACTIVE SHOOTER

I. Purpose:

The purpose of this policy is to establish the chain of command for high risk incidents.

II. Policy:

Due to the nature of high risk incidents, deputies and civilian staff from different divisions and different specialty units may be required to respond. To prevent confusion and conflict, the Sheriff shall appoint a High Risk Incident Commander (HRI Commander) to oversee all on-scene operations at a high risk incident. The High Risk Incident Commander shall have complete responsibility for the incident and authority over all personnel at the scene regardless of rank with the exception of the Sheriff and Chief Deputy. For the purpose of this policy, the HRI Commander shall mean either the HRI Commander or the Adjunct HRI Commander responsible for the incident.

III. Definitions:

A. HIGH RISK INCIDENT: Any event with a subject(s) at a known location where there exists a high probability of the subject causing death or serious bodily injury. The subject may be alone and armed (i.e. barricaded subject) or have control over other individuals (i.e. hostage situation). High risk incidents may result from: a domestic disturbance, an arrest situation, a suicide attempt, a criminal attempt (e.g. robbery, burglary, assault, etc.), a traffic stop, a warrant service, or other events. Generally, a high risk incident shall not include an active shooter, but a contained active shooter may become a high risk incident (see P-5020 Active Shooter).

B. HIGH RISK INCIDENT COMMANDER (HRI Commander): The command officer permanently assigned by the Sheriff, based on training and experience, to respond to and take control of all high risk incidents.

C. ADJUNCT HIGH RISK INCIDENT COMMANDER: The command officer permanently assigned by the Sheriff, based on training and experience, to assume the role of the High Risk Incident Commander in the absence of the assigned command officer.

IV. Procedures:

A. High Risk Incidents-HRI Commander Responsibilities: The HRI Commander or the Adjunct HRI Commander shall be available to respond to any high risk incident. The HRI Commander shall be responsible to coordinate his or her schedule with the Adjunct to ensure one or the other is available at all times.

1. The HRI Commander shall gather available information from the supervisor or command officer on-scene to determine the existence of a high risk incident. The HRIC shall discuss the details of the incident with the Supervisor or Command Officer(s) to work through possible crimes or extenuating circumstances that may exist to determine the appropriate response.

2. If an incident does exist, the HRI Commander shall notify Communications to send a high risk incident page and advise a response location, generally the Sarpy County Sheriff's Office. (The high risk incident page shall include Sarpy County SWAT, The Crisis Negotiations Unit (CNU), Drone Commander, StacMed, the on-call investigator, the Sheriff, the Chief Deputy and the ADC).

3. The HRI Commander shall respond to the field command post and take charge of the situation. The HRI Commander shall establish a field command post if this has not been done. The HRI Commander may request the Mobile Command Center (see AU-3220 Mobile Command Center).

4. The HRI Commander shall have the authority to utilize any on-duty personnel (regardless of division) and activate any off-duty personnel as deemed necessary.

a) When feasible, Road Patrol members shall be released from the scene to return to service.

5. The HRI Commander shall direct all responding units to the field command post for assignment.

6. The HRI Commander shall coordinate with any other involved agencies.

7. The HRI Commander shall be responsible for the following:

a) Inner perimeter security.
b) Outer perimeter security.

c) Authorizing an evacuation plan of surrounding locations as developed by the Sarpy County SWAT Commander or Team Leader.

d) Ensure the Sarpy County SWAT Commander or Team Leader has developed a rapid deployment plan.

e) Arranging for rescue and fire services.

f) Provide for intelligence gathering.

g) Ensure the maintenance of an on-going log.

h) Assigning an investigator to obtain necessary search and/or arrest warrants.

i) Directing negotiations:

(1) The HRI Commander shall not directly negotiate with the subject.

(2) The HRI Commander shall have final say on meeting any subject demands.

(3) Supplying weapons and providing or exchanging hostages is prohibited.

j) Authorizing the implementation of a tactical resolution developed by the Sarpy County SWAT commander or Team Leader.

k) Working with the Mental Health Unit, Crisis negotiation Unit, and other resources to aid in the resolution of an incident.

B. High Risk Incident-ADC Responsibilities:

1. The ADC shall respond to the field command post and assist the HRI Commander.

2. When requested by the HRI commander, the ADC shall be responsible for dissemination of information to the media at a site located away from the field command post.

3. The ADC shall be responsible for maintaining communication with the Sheriff and Chief Deputy. Both shall be contacted by the ADC in a High Risk Incident.

a) The ADC shall communicate any directives or wishes to the HRI Commander on behalf of the Sheriff and Chief Deputy if requested by either.

4. The ADC shall coordinate logistics at the request of the HRI Commander (food, water, supplies, transportation, etc.).

C. Resolution of a High Risk Incident-HRI Commander Responsibilities:

1. The HRI Commander shall ensure that all appropriate reports are completed.

2. The HRI Commander shall deactivate the field command post and advise Communications to close the assigned talkgroup.

3. The HRI Commander shall account for all deputies and staff.

4. The HRI Commander shall complete an incident report.

5. Within 48 hours of the incident, the HRI Commander shall arrange for a critique of the incident with the Sarpy County SWAT Commander, the Sarpy County SWAT Team Leader, the Crisis Negotiations Commander, the ADC, and the Chief Deputy.

D. Training: The HRI Commander and the Adjunct shall attend bi-annual training conducted with Sarpy County SWAT and the CNU.

E. High Risk Incident Chain of Command: The HRI Commander shall have authority over all on-scene personnel. The HRI Commander may assign additional personnel to any division commander. The division or unit commander shall be considered the on-scene individual with the greatest rank within the appropriate division.
